November 7 Visit Day Offers Prospective Applicants A Chance to Meet Current Institute Students, Learn More About Programs

M Onfire Visit Days A Longstanding Tradition

MONTEREY, CA – The Monterey Institute of International Studies will open its doors to prospective applicants once again for this fall’s Visit Day, to be held on Saturday, November 7 from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

The twice-yearly open house welcomes prospective applicants who want to learn more about the Monterey Institute’s academic offerings, meet current students, faculty, and staff, and experience its unique campus. Programming for the day includes master’s degree program information sessions where visitors can also meet the deans, faculty, and staff, as well as campus tours and sessions on financial planning and student life on the Monterey Peninsula.

The four-hour program concludes with a reception from 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m., featuring lunch and a chance to mingle with current students. Visit Day is an excellent opportunity for people interested in learning more about the Institute’s offerings to meet faculty and current students, get firsthand information about degree programs, explore financing options, and learn about housing and student life.

To participate, please contact the Admissions Office at admissions@miis.edu by November 3 to RSVP. The Admissions Office will respond with a confirmation e-mail that will include a detailed schedule for the day, as well as driving directions and lodging information.
