Institute’s Fall Environmental Speaker Series Continues
Monday Night Series Featuring Environmental Leaders Runs Through December 7

Monterey, CA – The Monterey Institute of International Studies’ Environmental Speaker Series continues in November and December, featuring local and national environmental and business leaders speaking on current issues ranging from the implications of green technology innovations to the economics of sound ocean policies.

The series, sponsored by the Graduate School of International Policy and Management’s Program in International Environmental Policy (IEP), is the centerpiece of the Institute's fall semester course “Hot Topics in Environmental Policy.” While the lectures are part of an ongoing class curriculum, the Institute welcomes attendance by the general public at the speaker series.

The speaker series will convene every Monday evening through December 7 from 6:00 p.m. to approximately 7:30 p.m. in the Irvine Auditorium in theMcCone Building at 499 Pierce Street in Monterey. The schedule through the end of the series is as follows:
