Become a Graduate Assistant in the Digital Learning Commons

☑ FEDERAL WORK-STUDY (not required) ☑ INSTITUTE WORK-STUDY

What’s the DLC?
Do you have a passion for learning and technology? Do you love flexing your community collaboration muscles and bringing groups of people together? Are you looking to develop your technology and facilitation skills? How about an interest in how technology is reshaping the way we communicate and learn? If you answered "Yes!" to any of these questions, then you just might be interested in working with the DLC. The DLC is a campus hub for technology, innovation, and peer-to-peer teaching and learning. Our team supports faculty, staff, and students in mastering tools and technologies for academic, professional, and personal purposes.

Blogging & Web Tools
Presentation & Graphic Design
Multimedia Projects
Instructional Technology

Apply for a Graduate Assistantship
We have GA positions open for current students. GAs balance their time between supporting specific projects and providing customer service to the MIIS community by taking appointments, helping drop-in visitors, and facilitating workshops. We are seeking GAs who may have particular skills or experience in the fields presented in the diagram above. You do not need to be a tech “expert” - rather, you should be comfortable working with different tools and passionate about teaching and learning.

Hours/Pay
- Days per week: flexible
- Hours per week: 8-12
- Pay: $15/hr

To Apply
- Send your resume and cover letter to DLC Director, Bob Cole (bcole@miis.edu) by noon on Friday, August 26th. Highlight your interest in working with the DLC and how you would contribute to the team based on your background, skills, and interests. Include links to any digital portfolios, websites, or projects that showcase your skill-set and experience.
- To learn more about the DLC, check out our website: http://sites.miis.edu/dlc/